

GEMM Final Conference

26th October 2018

CENTRE DE CONFERENCES EDOUARD VII - PARIS OPERA

23 square Edouard VII, 75009 Paris (F)

Sydney room

09.00-09.30 am	Registration
09.30-09.45 am	Welcome and Introduction Neli Demireva: GEMM Coordinator (University of Essex)
09.45-10.15 am	Ethnic penalties in a cross-national perspective and the contribution of individual factors to disadvantage (ethnicity, gender and human capital differences)
10.15-10.45 am	Discrimination and European labour markets: field experiments, evidence from the Netherlands, Germany, Spain, the UK and Norway, gender, ethnic and occupational differences
10.45-11.15 am	Coffee Break
11.15-11.45 am	Migrant motivations and migrant trajectories: the lived experience of migration
11.45-12.15 pm	Returns to human capital: who benefits from further investments in the human capital of the host country and the role of citizenship
12.15-12.45 pm	Qualifications and signal of courses: experiments
12.45-02.00 pm	Lunch
02.00-02.30 pm	The importance of country regimes in shaping the experience of migration, Labour market integration barriers and the importance of climate of reception
02.30-03.00 pm	Are European societies equally discriminatory: evidence from field experiments
03.00-03.30 pm	Coffee Break
03.30-04.00 pm	Do migrants shop around for migration regimes, which factors matter for migrant settlement: evidence from qualitative interviews
04.00-04.30 pm	Why country regimes matter for labour market and social integration
04.30-04.45 pm	Concluding remarks: Cristina Marcuzzo, REA, European Commission